LEGISLATURE ENDS LABORS

SESSION STARTED JANUARY 20
ADJOURNS SATURDAY MORNING.

APPROPRIATIONS $1,050,000

Expense of Session About Eighty Thousand Dollars—Total of 234 Bills Introduced in Senate and House.

Guthrie, Ok., March 19.—The special session of the legislature which convened here upon Gov. Haskell's call on Jan. 20 came to a close this morning, this being the fifty-ninth day. The time for adjournment was not fixed by concurrent resolution, but it was decided last night that the work could be completed not later than noon. Mr. Jones, who had served in twelve legislatures, expressed a desire to have one legislature adjourn "in the daytime and with some semblance of order." This was accomplished after announcement that the enrolling forces were through and all bills had been signed. Word came from the governor that he had nothing further to submit.

Before adjournment, speeches were made in the House by Mr. Lewis, Mr. Glover and Mr. Gilmer.

In the Senate, dialect speeches were made by Senators Keys and Landrum from the standpoint of the Cherokee Indian, Senator Soldani as the Osage would say it and Senator Yeager as a German.

Upon the basis of expense for the regular session, the special session has cost in the neighborhood of $80,000, not considering the appropriations which were made. There were enacted 160 bills and resolutions which have the force of law, and it is estimated that the appropriations will reach $1,050,000, 70 per cent of which will come from the public building fund created by the sale of school lands. The largest appropriation was $200,000 for new buildings at the McAlester penitentiary, and the smallest was $230 for the members of the State Mining Board. Nearly half a million dollars were given to state institutions for maintenance and new quarters.

In both houses they were making speeches of the character attending the close of every legislative session when the house and senate agreed that they would adjourn at 10:20 o'clock. In the House, Mr. Wallace of Pushmataha County was rounding out a peroration when Mr. Ewell of Bryan County bolted through the House doors and called out:

"Cut it; we want to adjourn."

Mr. Williams then made the motion, which prevailed, and as the house clock pointed off twenty-eight minutes after 10 o'clock the gavel fell.

Quicker in Senate.

In the Senate, they were some quicker. Senator Roddie's motion for sine die adjournment was carried and President Pro Tem Graham dropped the gavel at Twenty-two minutes after 10.

The last piece of business to be transacted by the house was defeating a resolution offered by Mr. Ross of Comanche county calling upon the attorney general under an existing statute to appear in the District court of Oklahoma county and before a grand jury there investigate and prosecute violations of the state banking law, and especially with reference, the resolution directed, to the failure of the Columbia Bank and Trust company.

"During the time we have been here," said Mr. Ross in support of the resolution, "we have always agreed as to line of policy. I have been as honest as any other member in my convictions, and I feel that I owe it to the house to explain a portion of my course."

"On the 24th day of December I received a long distance emergency telephone call to come to Guthrie. It was from a state officer who is a friend of mine. I did not know that a special session of the legislature was to be held. That morning I noticed in the newspapers that the governor had denied there would be a special session and I straightway concluded that one was probable. I traveled to Guthrie and meeting the state officer referred to, he told me there would be an extra session of the legislature, and said that they had noticed I had attacked the administration for certain matters, and he wanted to know if I intended to offer resolutions calling for an investigation. I said to him that the reports of State Examiner and Inspector Taylor revealed there had been money wrongfully paid out by State officials in one instance two salaries being paid to a state official and I said that unless the money was paid back I would offer a resolution proposing an investigation of the departments indicated."

Editorial Read.

Mr. Ross sent to the clerk's desk and had read what he said was an editorial from the Daily Oklahoman denouncing "graffers and speculators in holding office," in Oklahoma.

"I love the democratic party, Mr. Chairman," continued Mr. Ross, "and want to see for the people an honest and upright administration of the affairs of Oklahoma. I expect to strike in defense of the party as long as I shall live. We owe something to the people; we have already done considerable for the people in this session, but this is a matter in which the people are much concerned, and for the welfare of the party and of the state, I urge the adoption of the resolution."

Mr. Wallace followed in a speech for the Ross resolution, during which he recounted incidents of the failure of the bank at Oklahoma City, and told the state examiner and inspectors' investigation of the state banking board, when he got to the Columbia Bank and Trust company, the matter had been called off, "for the same reason that the Attorney General had been called off of the Oklahoma County Grand Jury."

"There is something wrong," said Mr. Wallace. "The hand of Esau is presented but behind it is the voice of Jacob."

"Don't you know," asked Mr. Anthony, "that the affairs of that failure are in court in Oklahoma City?"

The reply could not be heard and this was followed by a statement from Mr. Ashby that "every man in Oklahoma knows that if they had continued with the investigation at Oklahoma City it would have wrecked every institution connected with the Columbia Bank." He was against the resolution, he said.

A roll call was demanded and the resolution failed by a vote of forty to thirty-two, all republicans voting for it, and Mr. Ross being supported by Mr. Glover, Mr. Wallace and Speaker Wilson from the democratic side.

Of the important matters which failed of passage was the bill creating the office of County Assessors and displacing Township Assessors which died for want of agreement between conference committees; the same was true of the bill locating an additional district agricultural school at Cordell and the bill placing the State Supreme Court Clerk on a salary and requiring fees to be delivered to the State treasurer. The bill by Mr. Wilson of the house for regular investigation of the state departments by legislative committees died in the senate upon an adverse committee report, and the bill by Senator Russell redistricting the state into judicial districts was defeated on roll call in the house. The Thomas resolution submitted to the people an amendment to Sec. 9 of Art. IX of the State Constitution could not be brought to a vote in the House, where it had been reported from committee without recommendation.

Number of Bills.

The calendars showed there had been introduced in the House 187 bills and 97 in the Senate. The Senate cleared most of its calendar before adjournment.

$1,000,000 Electric Power Plant.

Coalgate, Ok., March 21.—A. E. (Dynamite Ed) Perry of Coalgate was in Ardmore with a proposition of building a $1,000,000 electric power plant on the Washita for the purpose of giving Ardmore and other cities southwest cheap power. On Feb. 7 Mr. Perry acquired control of the Washita Electric Power company at Pauls Valley, of which corporation he is now president, and whose new power plant will begin operation March 15. Three factories have already been landed for Pauls Valley as the result of the building of this plant and more are coming in.

NOTED PONTOTOC ATTORNEY

WILL HARDLY HAVE OPPOSITION

Organized democracy of Pontotoc county should rejoice that there is promised such exclusion of factional strife and personal bitterness within
the party during the campaign of candidates now being launched. Naturally, in a county so largely democratic, the only contest for county office will be between and among democrats. The outlook is that these democrats who will offer for office,

HONORABLE FRANK HUDDLESTON

Honorable Frank Huddleston, who returns home at the conclusion of his second term in the Oklahoma Legislature as popular with his constituency as he has all along been with his colleagues, stenographers and pages of the house of state representatives.

wholly clerical will largely be dependent on personal popularity and ability as a solicitor.

But the other county officers, such
as county judge and county attorney, whose duties require special fitness
and training, it is thought would hardly be as accessible to candidates who would succeed the present incumbents, provided such present incumbents had proven fitness and ability.

The present incumbent of the office
of county judge will not be a candidate for re-election, considering it
more desirable to return to the practice of law.

The present incumbent of the office of county attorney, the Hon. Robert Wimbish, who will be a candidate for re-election, has, in the judgment of the News, shown special ability in the conduct of his office and deserves
the compliment, which is in prospect,
that there will be no opposing candidacy.

Mr. Wimbish has made a state reputation as a vigorous and accomplished county attorney. He is reputed with having prosecuted more murder cases and secured more convictions than any other Oklahoma county attorney. But what has been,
in probability, the largest factor in influencing his accomplished professional colleagues to favor his re-election, without opposition, is their acquaintance with the unusual and peculiar hardships and extreme dangers which have confronted him
in the fearless exercise of the duties of the office. It is believed that Pontotoc county and its attorneys appreciate the situation and will heartily return Mr. Wimbish to office.

SENATOR REUBEN RODDIE

OFFERS FOR RE-ELECTION

Honorable Reuben M. Roddie authorizes the News to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office
of state senator from the 23rd senatorial district, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

Further reference will be published regarding Senator Roddie and his legislative record a little later.

RATLIFF FOR JUDGE.

UNCLE JOE OFF RULES COMMITTEE

THE SPEAKER STRIPPED OF HIS
IMPERIAL POWER AMID
WILD SCENES.

TEXAN WOULD VACATE CHAIR

Congressman Burleson Offers Resolution to Oust Cannon, but Is Lost on Vote by Republicans.

Washington, March 21.—Shorn of his imperial power, as a member of the Rules Committee; crushed in defeat by his decision being overruled, and humiliated by being forced to put to a vote the things which tore away, one by one, his signs of Czar-like authority, Joseph G. Cannon, Speaker of the House, was nevertheless retained in the presiding officer's seat against the proposal of Congressman Burleson of Texas, who offered the final resolution declaring
the Speakership vacant. The votes:
Overruling the Speaker's decision
against the Norris resolution to reform the Rules Committee, 182 to 160.

Ordering previous question to make
Norris' substitute reducing Rules
Committee membership from fifteen to ten members, 178 to 159.

Adopting Norris' substitute making Rules Committee consist of fifteen members—the Speaker eliminated, 193
to 153.

Refusing to accept Burleson resolution, vacating Speakership, 155 to 191.

Thus the republican insurgents voted with the democrats to rebuke the speaker and shear him of some of his power, but when it was brought home
to them that the actual office of Speaker was about to be vacated,
they refused to "make a martyr" of
him and the session ended, after one
of the most memorable contests of the past fifty years, with members singing: "For he's a jolly good fellow."

CANNON'S STATEMENT IN RULING.

Speaker Cites Precedents and Refers to Similar Question.

Washington, March 21.—In sustaining the point of order against the consideration of the resolution of Representative Norris looking to a reorganization of the Rules Committee, Speaker Cannon announced his reasons in a typewritten statement.
He began by referring to the fact that he had been criticised for being slow to rule, but explained that this was because the question had been brought so unexpectedly upon the attention of the house. This, he said, had been done in a "revolutionary manner," rendering it of "such transcendent importance to the future procedure of the house that the fullest, even the most protracted discussion, seemed justifiable." In no other manner could the most complete information be brought to the consideration of the question and in no other way could the large participation of the membership of the house be assured. He said the question of constitutional privilege in the house had not been reviewed and
the principles governing it had not been questioned for many years.
Those principles, he said, were relatively simple.

Functions of House.

"It has been held always," he went on, "that the ordinary legislative duties and function in the house,
exercised by authority of the Constitution, must proceed according to the order prescribed by the rules.
The inference that the Constitution
says that the house shall have power
to lay taxes, regulate commerce,
make naturalization laws, coin money, establish postoffices, create courts support armies and a navy, etc., has
not given these subjects when embodied in bills any right to disturb
the order of business provided by the rules. The very object of the rules is to provide an orderly way
for considering those and other subjects entrusted to the house's judgment.

"To give all those subjects constitutional privilege would be to establish constitutional chaos in the house.

"There were certain functions
which the Constitution enjoins Congress to do and for the doing of which it fixed the time. Among these was the one that congress shall provide for a census of population and apportionment of representatives.
Therefore in the tenth year bill to make the required provision have
been admitted without regard to the requirement of the rules. Whether that construction proceeded too far
when the constitution gave a year
within which to perform the duty was a matter as to which there might be doubt. But for thirty years the practice has been unvarying. Hence when confronted with the question
this week, the Chair had followed the

practice of the house as he would obey every rule, without questioning the wisdom that originally created it."

He then proceeded:

"Today, however, the Chair is asked to permit a proposition for a new rule to come in, although the rules prescribing the order of business require us to proceed to others matters,
and it is claimed that the chair would
be justified in doing this because the Constitution says that each house may determine the rules of its proceeding."

PRESTIGE LOST; WEAPON GONE.

Cannon Still Speaker, but Shorn of Power of Membership.

Washington, March 21.—Joseph
Guernsey Cannon of Danville, Ill., is still Speaker of the House of Representatives, but he lost today the ancient prestige the weapon of that office when the allied republican insurgents and democrats took from him not only the chairmanship of but even membership in, the all-powerful committee on Rules, the chief asset in his stock of power.

Amid scenes of the wildest disorder, for the like of which one must go back to the exciting days just prior to the Civil War, perhaps even those times might not duplicate it;
the veteran speaker, almost 74 years
old, stood erect and defiant, his head
"bloodied but unbowed." And at the end, when a big Texas democrat accepted the speaker's daring challenge
and introduced a resolution to fling
him out of the speakership, the republicans, with few exceptions, rallied with almost unbroken party
front and gave him a vote which almost offset the "repudiation of Cannonism."

This is what happened:

By a vote of 191 to 155, the Republican insurgents voting solidly with
the democrats, the House adopted the resolution of Representative Norris (Rep.) of Nebraska requiring a reorganization of the rules committee, increasing its membership from five to ten and declaring the Speaker ineligible to membership thereon.

Clark's Statement.

Minority Leader Clark issued the following:

"The great victory of the democrats, aided by the insurgent republicans, in changing the number of the committee on rules and in changing the mode of selection and, above all, by excluding the speaker from
the membership thereof, is a victory in the cause of good government.

"The great victory, from a democratic standpoint, is that, for the first time in many years, the democrats, in
a great bitter and prolonged fight, stood together like a stone wall, not
a man breaking ranks, which augurs
well for future harmony and victory in both the Presidential and Congressional elections. The country is dissatisfied with both the republican administration and the republican congress.

"The republicans are on the toboggan, and if the democrats outside of congress will get together as the democrats in the house have got together, our victory this year and in 1912 will be as sweeping as those of 1890 and 1892.

"After the astounding victory of the democrats and the insurgent republicans in the matter of changing the committee on Rules, Speaker Cannon made a great bluff by asserting that he was ready to entertain a motion to declare the chair vacant and to elect a speaker to succeed him—a motion which he would have been compelled to entertain without any such declaration on his part, if he paid any attention to his oath of office.

"His bluff was promptly called by the democrats. Every man lined up.

Had the insurgent republicans stood by us on that vote to declare the chair vacant and to elect a speaker, Cannonism, with all the name implies
would have been as dead as the men who lived before the flood. As it is,
the issue of Cannonism survives in full force, for as sure as a gun is made of iron, if the republicans elect
a majority of the next house, Mr.
Speaker Cannon will be re-elected
speaker.

"In the public mind, Mr. Cannon and Cannonism are absolutely synonymous. They can not be disassocia-ted by any sort of incantation of legerdemain. We have, in this victory, simply scotched Cannonism, not killed it, and the net result is that the people, if they really desire to do away with Cannonism, must do so by electing a democratic house. That is the only way known among men by which to accomplish that result—a consummation devoutly to be wished."

Representative Leffroot of Wisconsin, an insurgent who voted against
the speaker, said:

"I have always believed that the presiding officer of the house should not be Joseph G. Cannon. I have voted consistently today, that is all."

Representatives Cooper of Wisconsin and Poindexter of Washington expressed themselves similarly.

posing candidates.

It is to be expected that the present incumbents of county offices, whose
duties are practically wholly clerical, no matter with what efficiency they
have conducted their respective offices, will have opposition, for undoubtedly there are numerous other democrats who could conduct the offices just as capably.

Therefore the results of the contests for offices whose duties are

Another Railroad Promoted.

Butler, Ok., March 21.—Following the action of a committee from Elk City in calling for a conference with representatives of this place to meet them at Foss, George Ames and Dr. J. T. Frizzell responded. The Wichita Falls and Northwestern railroad has a contract with the town of Elk City to come there for a bonus of $40,000 and about seventy-five miles of right of way.

Elk City is desirous that Butler assist in securing the right of way this side of Elk City which is said to be forty-one miles. It is said that this railroad wants to go in a northeasterly direction and hit Taloga. This would put Butler in direct line.

At a meeting of the Commercial Club a committee was appointed to look after this matter.

Masonic School of Instruction.

Altus, Ok., March 21.—Mr. Cook, assistant State lecturer, has opened a school of instruction for the Masonic Lodge in Altus, with representatives from the various lodges in the county in attendance. #### A Household Invention.

An ingenious invention for the household is an article constructed for lifting hot pots or pans from the stove or for taking utensils out of the oven without the use of a rag or cloth. The panalift, as it is called, is made from steel wire and is guaranteed not to bend under the heaviest weight. It adjusts itself to any pan and is a great improvement over the old method of using a rag, which may or may not be germ laden. Then, again, there is no fear of burning the hands or fingers.

Salmon Baked in Milk.

A most delicious way to bake salmon is to place your fish in a deep pan, pour in enough scalded milk, say an inch deep, and add milk as it boils away until done; baste the fish with the milk and when done thicken the gravy, not too thick; season with pepper and salt and serve. You will never bake your salmon any other way. This is intended for salmon only.

Catherine Eggs.

Bake until thoroughly done a sufficient number of large potatoes. Cut a piece off the top of each and take out sufficient of each of the insides to leave space enough to contain one raw egg. Break in the egg, season with salt and pepper, cover with a spoonful of cream sauce and bake in the oven for 15 minutes.

Bacon Pie.

Butter a baking dish and put in a layer of mashed potato, then a layer of thin slices of bacon. Season with pepper and a little onion. Have the last layer of potato, pour in sufficient milk to moisten it. Bake in a hot oven.

Fruit Punch.

One cup of lemon juice, one cupful of raspberry juice, one cupful of red cherry juice, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, one pint of water. Boil sugar and water together, and when cold add the fruit juices and ice.

Handkerchiefs.

Drop the handkerchiefs, before washing, into cold water to which has been added a little borax and plenty of soap. Boil thoroughly. Rinse in two waters. They will be white as snow and perfectly clean.

LEGISLATURE ENDS LABORS

SESSION STARTED JANUARY 20
ADJOURNS SATURDAY MORNING.

APPROPRIATIONS $1,050,000

Expense of Session About Eighty Thousand Dollars--Total of 254 Bills Introduced in Senate and House.

Guthrie, Ok. March 19.—The special session of the legislature which convened here upon Gov. Haskell's call on Jan. 20 came to a close this morning this being the fifty-ninth day. The time for adjournment was not fixed by concurrent resolution but it was decided last night that the work could be completed not later than noon. Mr. Jones, who had served in twelve legislatures expressed a desire to have one legislature adjourn in the daytime and with some semblance of order this was accomplished after announcement that the enrolling forces were through and all bills had been signed. Word came from the governor that he had nothing further to submit.

Before adjournment speeches were made in the House by Mr. Lewis, Mr. Glover and Mr. Gilmer.

In the Senate direct speeches were made by Senators Kays and Landrum from the standpoint of the Cherokee Indian Senator Seldam as the Osage would say it and Senator Verger as a German.

Upon the basis of expense for the regular session the special session has cost in the neighborhood of $80,000 not considering the appropriations which were made. There were enacted 160 bills and resolutions which have the force of law and it is estimated that the appropriations will reach $1,050,000 70 per cent of which will come from the public building fund created by the sale of school lands. The largest appropriation was $200,000 for new buildings at the McAlester penitentiary and the smallest was $230 for the members of the State Mining Board. Nearly half a million dollars were given to state institutions for maintenance and new quarters.

In both houses they were making speeches of the character attending the close of every legislative session when the house and senate agreed that they would adjourn at 10:20 o'clock in the House Mr. Wallace of Pushmataha County was rounding out a peroration when Mr. Ewell of Bryan County bolted through the House doors and called out:

'Cut it, we want to adjourn.'

Mr. Williams then made the motion, which prevailed, and as the house clock pointed off twenty-eight minutes after 10 o'clock the gavel fell.

Quicker in Senate.

In the Senate, they were some quicker. Senator Roddies motion for sine die adjournment was carried and President Pro Tem Graham dropped the gavel at twenty-two minutes after 10.

The last piece of business to be transacted by the house was defeating a resolution offered by Mr. Ross of Comanche county calling upon the attorney general under an existing statute to appear in the District court of Oklahoma county and before a grand jury there investigate and prosecute violations of the state banking law, and especially with reference, the resolution directed, to the failure of the Columbia Bank and Trust company.

'During the time we have been here, said Mr. Ross in support of the resolution, we have always agreed as to line of policy I have been as honest as any other member in my convictions and I feel that I owe it to the house to explain a portion of my course.'

'On the 24th day of December I received a long distance emergency telephone call to come to Guthrie. It was from a state officer who is a friend of mine. I did not know that a special session of the legislature was to be held. That morning I noticed in the newspapers that the governor had denied there would be a special session and I straightway concluded that one was probable. I traveled to Guthrie and meeting the state officer referred to, he told me there would be an extra session of the legislature and said that they had noticed I had attacked the administration for certain matters and he wanted to know if I intended to offer resolutions calling for an investigation. I said to him that the reports of State Examiner and Inspector Taylor revealed there had been money wrongfully paid out by State officials in one instance two salaries being paid to a state official and I said that unless the money was paid back I would offer a resolution proposing an investigation of the departments indicated.

Editorial Read.

Mr. Ross sent to the clerk's desk and had read what he said was an editorial from the Daily Oklahoman denouncing 'graffers and speculators in holding office' in Oklahoma.

'I love the democratic party, Mr. Chairman,' continued Mr. Ross 'and want to see for the people an honest and upright administration of the affairs of Oklahoma. I expect to strike in defense of the party as long as I shall live. We owe something to the people we have already done considerable for the people in this session, but this is a matter in which the people are much concerned, and for the welfare of the party and of the state, I urge the adoption of the resolution.'

Mr. Wallace followed in a speech for the Ross resolution, during which he recounted incidents of the failure of the bank at Oklahoma City, and told the state examiner and inspectors' investigation of the state banking board, when he got to the Columbia Bank and Trust company, the matter had been called off, 'for the same reason that the Attorney General had been called off of the Oklahoma County Grand Jury.'

'There is something wrong,' said Mr. Wallace. The hand of Esau is presented but behind it is the voice of Jacob.'

'Don't you know, asked Mr. Anthony, that the affairs of that failure are in court in Oklahoma City?'

The reply could not be heard and this was followed by a statement from Mr. Ashby that every man in Oklahoma knows that if they had continued with the investigation at Oklahoma City it would have wrecked every institution connected with the Columbia Bank. He was against the resolution, he said.

A roll call was demanded and the resolution failed by a vote of forty to thirty-two, all republicans voting for it, and Mr. Ross being supported by Mr. Glover, Mr. Wallace and Speaker Wilson from the democratic side.

failed of passage was the bill creating the office of County Assessors and displacing Township Assessors which died for want of agreement between conference committees. The same was true of the bill locating an additional district agricultural school at Cordell and the bill placing the State Supreme Court Clerk on a salary and requiring fees to be delivered to the State treasurer. The bill by Mr. Wilson of the house for regular investigation of the state departments by legislative committees died in the senate upon an adverse committee report, and the bill by Senator Russell redistricting the state into judicial districts was defeated on roll call in the house. The Thomas resolution submitted to the people an amendment to Sec 9 of Art IX of the State Constitution could not be brought to a vote in the House, where it had been reported from committee without recommendation.

Number of Bills.
The calendars showed there had been introduced in the House 187 bills and 97 in the Senate. The Senate cleared most of its calendar before adjournment.

$1,000,000 Electric Power Plant.

Coalgate, Ok. March 21.—A. E. (Dynamite Ed) Perry of Coalgate was in Ardmore with a proposition of building a $1,000,000 electric power plant on the Washita for the purpose of giving Ardmore and other cities southwest cheap power. On Feb. 7 Mr. Perry acquired control of the Washita Electric Power company at Pauls Valley, of which corporation he is now president, and whose new power plant will begin operation March 15. Three factories have already been landed for Pauls Valley as the result of the building of this plant and more are coming in.

NOTED PONTOTOC ATTORNEY WILL HARDLY HAVE OPPOSITION
Organized democracy of Pontotoc county should rejoice that there is promised such exclusion of factional strife and personal bitterness within the party during the campaign of candidates now being launched. Naturally, in a county so largely democratic, the only contest for county office will be between and among democrats. The outlook is that these democrats who will offer for office,

HONORABLE FRANK HUDDLESTON

Honorable Frank Huddleston, who returns home at the conclusion of his second term in the Oklahoma Legislature as popular with his constituency as he has all along been with his colleagues, stenographers and pages of the house of state representatives.

wholly clerical will largely be dependent on personal popularity and ability as a solicitor.

But the other county officers, such as county judge and county attorney, whose duties require special fitness and training, it is thought would hardly be as accessible to candidates who would succeed the present incumbents, provided such present incumbents had proven fitness and ability.

The present incumbent of the office of county judge will not be a candidate for re-election, considering it more desirable to return to the practice of law.

The present incumbent of the office of county attorney, the Hon. Robert Wimbish, who will be a candidate for re-election, has, in the judgment of the News, shown special ability in the conduct of his office and deserves the compliment, which is in prospect, that there will be no opposing candidacy.

Mr. Wimbish has made a state reputation as a vigorous and accomplished county attorney. He is reputed with having prosecuted more murder cases and secured more convictions than any other Oklahoma county attorney. But what has been, in probability, the largest factor in influencing his accomplished professional colleagues to favor his reelection, without opposition, is their acquaintance with the unusual and peculiar hardships and extreme dangers which have confronted him in the fearless exercise of the duties of the office. It is believed that Pontotoc county and its attorneys appreciate the situation and will heartily return Mr. Wimbish to office.

SENATOR REUBEN RODDIE OFFERS FOR RE-ELECTION

Honorable Reuben M. Roddie authorizes the News to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of state senator from the 23rd senatorial district, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

Further reference will be published regarding Senator Roddie and his legislative record a little later.

RATLIFF FOR JUDGE.

Hon. Edgar Ratliff authorizes the News to announce his candidacy for the office of County Judge subject to the action of the democratic primary.

They are at home; who are at home? Ratliff, Roddie and Huddleston. They made good; who made good? Roddie, Ratliff and Huddleston.

UNCLE JOE OFF RULES COMMITTEE

THE SPEAKER STRIPPED OF HIS IMPERIAL POWER AMID WILD SCENES.

TEXAN WOULD VACATE CHAIR

Congressman Burleson Offers Resolution to Oust Cannon, but Is Lost on Vote by Republicans.

Washington, March 21.—Shorn of his imperial power, as a member of the Rules Committee; crushed in defeat by his decision being overruled, and humiliated by being forced to put to a vote the things which tore away, one by one, his signs of Czarlike authority, Joseph G. Cannon, Speaker of the House, was nevertheless retained in the presiding officer's seat against the proposal of Congressman Burleson of Texas, who offered the final resolution declaring the Speakership vacant. The votes: Overruling the Speaker's decision against the Norris resolution to reform the Rules Committee, 182 to 160.

Ordering previous question to make Norris substitute reducing Rules Committee membership from fifteen to ten members, 178 to 159.

Adopting Norris' substitute making Rules Committee consist of fifteen members: the Speaker eliminated, 193 to 153.

Refusing to accept Burleson resolution, vacating Speakership, 155 to 181.

Thus the republican insurgents voted with the democrats to rebuke the speaker and shear him of some of his power, but when it was brought home to them that the actual office of Speaker was about to be vacated, they refused to "make a martyr" of him and the session ended, after one of the most memorable contests of the past fifty years, with members singing: "For he's a jolly good fellow."

CANNON'S STATEMENT IN RULING.

Speaker Cites Precedents and Refers to Similar Question.

Washington, March 21.—In sustaining the point of order against the consideration of the resolution of Representative Norris looking to a reorganization of the Rules Committee, Speaker Cannon announced his reasons in a typewritten statement. He began by referring to the fact that he had been criticized for being slow to rule, but explained that this was because the question had been brought so unexpectedly upon the attention of the house. This, he said, had been done in a "revolutionary manner," rendering it of "such transcendent importance to the future procedure of the house that the fullest, even the most protracted discussion, seemed justifiable." In no other manner could the most complete information be brought to the consideration of the question and in no other way could the large participation of the membership of the house be assured. He said the question of constitutional privilege in the house had not been reviewed and the principles governing it had not been questioned for many years. Those principles, he said, were relatively simple.

Functions of House.

"It has been held always," he went on, "that the ordinary legislative duties and function in the house, exercised by authority of the Constitution, must proceed according to the order prescribed by the rules. The inference that the Constitution says that the house shall have power to lay taxes, regulate commerce, make naturalization laws, coin money, establish postoffices, create courts support armies and a navy, etc., has not given these subjects when embodied in bills any right to disturb the order of business provided by the rules. The very object of the rules is to provide an orderly way for considering those and other subjects entrusted to the house's judgment."

"To give all those subjects constitutional privilege would be to establish constitutional chaos in the house."

"There were certain functions which the Constitution enjoins Congress to do and for the doing of which it fixed the time. Among these was the one that congress shall provide for a census of population and apportionment of representatives. Therefore in the tenth year bill to make the required provision have been admitted without regard to the requirement of the rules. Whether that construction proceeded too far when the constitution gave a year within which to perform the duty was a matter as to which there might be doubt. But for thirty years the practice has been unvarying. Hence when confronted with the question this week, the Chair had followed the practice of the house as he would obey every rule, without questioning the wisdom that originally created it."

He then proceeded:

"Today, however, the Chair is asked to permit a proposition for a new rule to come in, although the rules prescribing the order of business require us to proceed to others matters, and it is claimed that the chair would be justified in doing this because the Constitution says that each house may determine the rules of its proceeding."

PRESTIGE LOST; WEAPON GONE.

Cannon Still Speaker, but Shorn of Power of Membership.

Washington, March 21.—Joseph Guernsey Cannon of Danville, Ill., is still Speaker of the House of Representatives, but he lost today the ancient prestige the weapon of that office when the allied republican insurgents and democrats took from him not only the chairmanship of, but even membership in, the all-powerful committee on Rules, the chief asset in his stock of power.

Amid scenes of the wildest disorder, for the like of which one must go back to the exciting days just prior to the Civil War, perhaps even those times might not duplicate it; the veteran speaker, almost 74 years old, stood erect and defiant, his head "bloodied but unbowed." And at the end, when a big Texas democrat accepted the speaker's daring challenge and introduced a resolution to fling him out of the speakership, the republicans, with few exceptions, rallied with almost unbroken party front and gave him a vote which almost offset the "repudiation of Cannonism."

This is what happened:

By a vote of 191 to 155, the Republican insurgents voting solidly with the democrats, the House adopted the resolution of Representative Norris (Rep.) of Nebraska requiring a reorganization of the rules committee, increasing its membership from five to ten and declaring the Speaker ineligible to membership thereon.

Clark's Statement.

Minority Leader Clark issued the following:

"The great victory of the democrats, aided by the insurgent republicans, in changing the number of the committee on rules and in changing the mode of selection and, above all, by excluding the speaker from the membership thereof, is a victory in the cause of good government."

"The great victory, from a democratic standpoint, is that, for the first time in many years, the democrats, in a great bitter and prolonged fight, stood together like a stone wall, not a man breaking ranks, which augurs well for future harmony and victory in both the Presidential and Congressional elections. The country is dissatisfied with both the republican administration and the republican congress."

"The republicans are on the toboggan, and if the democrats outside of congress will get together as the democrats in the house have got together, our victory this year and in 1912 will be as sweeping as those of 1899 and 1892."

"After the astounding victory of the democrats and the insurgent republicans in the matter of changing the committee on Rules, Speaker Cannon made a great bluff by asserting that he was ready to entertain a motion to declare the chair vacant and to elect a speaker to succeed him—a motion which he would have been compelled to entertain without any such declaration on his part, if he paid any attention to his oath of office."

the democrats. Every man lined up. Had the insurgent republicans stood by us on that vote to declare the chair vacant and to elect a speaker, Cannonism, with all the name implies would have been as dead as the men who lived before the flood. As it is, the issue of Cannonism survives in full force, for as sure as a gun is made of iron, if the republicans elect a majority of the next house, Mr. Speaker Cannon will be re-elected speaker."

"In the public mind, Mr. Cannon and Cannonism are absolutely synonymous. They can not be disassociated by any sort of incantation of legerdemain. We have, in this victory, simply scotched Cannonism, not killed it, and the net result is that the people, if they really desire to do away with Cannonism, must do so by electing a democratic house. That is the only way known among men by which to accomplish that result—a consummation devoutly to be wished."

Representative Leinroot of Wisconsin, an insurgent who voted against the speaker, said:

"I have always believed that the presiding officer of the house should not be Joseph G. Cannon. I have voted consistently today, that is all."

Representatives Cooper of Wisconsin and Poindexter of Washington expressed themselves similarly.

It is to be expected that the present incumbents of county offices, whose duties are practically wholly clerical, no matter with what efficiency they have conducted their respective offices, will have opposition, for undoubtedly there are numerous other democrats who could conduct the offices just as capably.

SPEAKER CANNON SAYS INSURGENTS ARE COWARDS

STILL BOASTING OF HIS CONTROLLING POWER.

Says Republicans Who Saved Him Complete Humiliation Lacked Courage.

Washington, March 21.—Developments in the twenty-four hours following the partial victory of a majority of the House of Representatives over Speaker Cannon and the Rules Committee are of a character that tend to justify Representative Burleson's motion to remove Joseph Cannon also from the Speakership and to emphasize the fact that a full and effective defeat of Cannonism failed only because a sufficient number of insurgents in the supreme test lacked the courage to vote their convictions.

These developments also show the shallowness of the pretension that there is a wide distinction between "the man and the system," as was contended by the insurgents who joined the reactionaries in the vote against declaring the speakership vacant. Mr. Cannon's great power is not derived from the fact that he absolutely controls the committee on rules, but he controls the rules committee so completely because of the great power which is vested in him in many other ways—notably, the power to stack committees for or against important legislation. With such a power lodged in the speaker of a great legislative body, the criticism of Cannon is that by reason of his ideals and affiliations he is unfitted for the place, and the house cry against him has been based upon the character of this man so clothed with great responsibility. What has occurred since the House crippled him, so far as his complete domination of the rules committee is concerned, would indicate that the next logical step is to shear him of every vestige of the remaining power, by reason of which he still holds a majority of his colleagues in subjection, or remove him entirely, as the democrats and nine insurgents sought to do Saturday afternoon.

Emboldened by the vote of confidence which he received at the hands of his followers, with the aid of the insurgents who voted against removing him from the speakership, Mr. Cannon at a banquet Saturday night let loose his wrath upon the insurgents who made it possible to curb his power, calling them the "slough of the Republican party" "populists" and what not. Upon those insurgents who did not vote for his removal, he heaped additional scorn and contempt

This course he followed up today by the more important intimation that he proposes to name through the republican caucus the men whom the republicans will select for the committee, and that the Rules Committee will as thoroughly be his committee as heretofore

AVOID HARSH DRUGS.

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orde-lies. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Gwin & Mays Co., West Main St.

A Household Invention. An ingenious invention for the household is an article constructed for lifting hot pots or pans from the stove or for taking utensils out of the oven without the use of a rag or cloth. The panalift, as it is called, is made from steel wire and is guaranteed not to bend under the heaviest weight. It adjusts itself to any pan and is a great improvement over the old method of using a rag, which may or may not be germ laden. Then, again, there is no fear of burning the hands or fingers.

Salmon Baked in Milk.

A most delicious way to bake salmon is to place your fish in a deep pan, pour in enough scalded milk, say an inch deep and add milk as it boils away until done, baste the fish with the milk and when done thicken the gravy, not too thick. Season with pepper and salt and serve. You will never bake your salmon any other way. This is intended for salmon only.

Catherine Eggs

Bake until thoroughly done a sufficient number of large potatoes. Cut a piece off the top of each and scoop out sufficient of the hot potatoes to leave space to hold the eggs. Bake the eggs in the potatoes. Season with salt and pepper. Gravy thick with milk and butter. Bake in the oven for 15 minutes.

Easy Pie

Butter a baking dish and put in a layer of mashed potatoes. Then a layer of mince or fruit. Season with pepper and salt. Bake in the oven. The last layer of potatoes should be thick enough to hold the filling. Bake in the oven for 15 minutes.

Fruit Punch

One cup of lemon juice, one cupful of raspberry juice, one cupful of red cherry juice, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, one pint of water. Boil sugar and water together, and when cold add the fruit juices and ice.

Handkerchiefs.

Drop the handkerchiefs, before washing, into cold water to which has been added a little borax and plenty of soap. Boil thoroughly. Rinse in two waters. They will be white as snow and perfectly clean.

LEGISLATURE ENDS LABORS

SESSION STARTED JANUARY 20
ADJOURNS SATURDAY MORN-ING.

APPROPRIATIONS $1,050,000

Expense of Session About Eighty Thousand Dollars--Total of 254 Bills Introduced in Senate and House.

Guthrie, Ok. March 19.—The special session of the legislature which convened here upon Gov. Haskell's call on Jan. 20 came to a close this morning this being the fifty-ninth day. The time for adjournment was not fixed by concurrent resolution but it was decided last night that the work could be completed not later than noon. Mr. Jones, who had served in twelve legislatures expressed a desire to have one legislature adjourn in the daytime and with some semblance of order this was accomplished after announcement that the enrolling forces were through and all bills had been signed. Word came from the governor that he had nothing further to submit.

Before adjournment speeches were made in the House by Mr. Lewis, Mr. Glover and Mr. Gilmer.

In the Senate direct speeches were made by Senators Keys and Landrum from the standpoint of the Cherokee Indian Senator Soldani as the Osage would say it and Senator Venger as a German.

Upon the basis of expense for the regular session the special session has cost in the neighborhood of $80,000 not considering the appropriations which were made. There were enacted 160 bills and resolutions which have the force of law and it is estimated that the appropriations will reach $1,050,000 70 per cent of which will come from the public building fund created by the sale of school lands. The largest appropriation was $300,000 for new buildings at the McAlester penitentiary and the smallest was $230 for the members of the State Mining Board. Nearly half a million dollars were given to state institutions for maintenance and new quarters.

In both houses they were making speeches of the character attending the close of every legislative session when the house and senate agreed that they would adjourn at 10:20 o'clock. In the House Mr. Wallace of Pushmataha County was rounding out a peroration when Mr. Ewell of Bryan County bolted through the House doors and called out:

"Cut it, we want to adjourn!" Mr. Williams then made the motion, which prevailed, and as the house clock pointed off twenty-eight minutes after 10 o'clock the gavel fell.

Quicker in Senate.

In the Senate, they were some quicker. Senator Riddle's motion for sine die adjournment was carried and President Pro Tem Graham dropped the gavel at twenty-two minutes after 10.

The last piece of business to be transacted by the house was defeating a resolution offered by Mr. Ross of Comanche county calling upon the attorney general under an existing statute to appear in the District court of Oklahoma county and before a grand jury there investigate and prosecute violations of the state banking law, and especially with reference, the resolution directed, to the failure of the Columbia Bank and Trust company.

"During the time we have been here," said Mr. Ross in support of the resolution, "we have always agreed as to line of policy I have been as honest as any other member in my convictions and I feel that I owe it to the house to explain a portion of my course."

"On the 24th day of December I received a long distance emergency telephone call to come to Guthrie. It was from a state officer who is a friend of mine. I did not know that a special session of the legislature was to be held. That morning I noticed in the newspapers that the governor had denied there would be a special session and I straightway concluded that one was probable. I traveled to Guthrie and meeting the state officer referred to, he told me there would be an extra session of the legislature and said that they had noticed I had attacked the administration for certain matters and he wanted to know if I intended to offer resolutions calling for an investigation. I said to him that the reports of State Examiner and Inspector Taylor revealed there had been money wrongfully paid out by State officials in one instance two salaries being paid to a state official and I said that unless the money was paid back I would offer a resolution proposing an investigation of the departments indicated.

Editorial Read.

Mr. Ross sent to the clerk's desk and had read what he said was an editorial from the Daily Oklahoman denouncing 'grafters and speculators in holding office' in Oklahoma.

"I love the democratic party," Mr. Chairman continued Mr. Ross "and want to see for the people an honest and upright administration of the affairs of Oklahoma. I expect to strike in defense of the party as long as I shall live. We owe something to the people we have already done considerable for the people in this session, but this is a matter in which the people are much concerned, and for the welfare of the party and of the state, I urge the adoption of the resolution."

Mr. Wallace followed in a speech for the Ross resolution, during which he recounted incidents of the failure of the bank at Oklahoma City, and told the state examiner and inspectors' investigation of the state banking board, when he got to the Columbia Bank and Trust company, the matter had been called off, "for the same reason that the Attorney General had been called off of the Oklahoma County Grand Jury."

There is something wrong," said Mr. Wallace. The hand of Esau is presented but behind it is the voice of Jacob.

"Don't you know," asked Mr. Anthony, "that the affairs of that failure are in court in Oklahoma City?"

The reply could not be heard and this was followed by a statement from Mr. Ashby that every man in Oklahoma knows that if they had continued with the investigation at Oklahoma City it would have wrecked every institution connected with the Columbia Bank. He was against the resolution, he said.

A roll call was demanded and the resolution failed by a vote of forty to thirty-two, all republicans voting for it, and Mr. Ross being supported by Mr. Glover, Mr. Wallace and Speaker Wilson from the democratic side.

failed of passage was the bill creating the office of County Assessors and displacing Township Assessors which died for want of agreement between conference committees. The same was true of the bill locating an additional district agricultural school at Cordell and the bill placing the State Supreme Court Clerk on a salary and requiring fees to be delivered to the State treasurer. The bill by Mr. Wilson of the house for regular investigation of the state departments by legislative committees died in the senate upon an adverse committee report, and the bill by Senator Russell redistricting the state into judicial districts was defeated on roll call in the house. The Thomas resolution submitted to the people an amendment to Sec. 9 of Art. IX of the State Constitution could not be brought to a vote in the House, where it had been reported from committee without recommendation.

Number of Bills.

The calendars showed there had been introduced in the House 187 bills and 97 in the Senate. The Senate cleared most of its calendar before adjournment.

$1,000,000 Electric Power Plant.

Coalgate, Ok. March 21.—A. E. (Dynamite Ed) Perry of Coalgate was in Ardmore with a proposition of building a $1,000,000 electric power plant on the Washita for the purpose of giving Ardmore and other cities southwest cheap power. On Feb. 7 Mr. Perry acquired control of the Washita Electric Power company at Pauls Valley, of which corporation he is now president, and whose new power plant will begin operation March 15. Three factories have already been landed for Pauls Valley as the result of the building of this plant and more are coming in.

WILL HARDLY HAVE OPPOSITION
Organized democracy of Pontotoc
county should rejoice that there is
promised such exclusion of factional
strife and personal bitterness within
the party during the campaign of candidates now being launched. Naturally, in a county so largely democratic, the only contest for county
office will be between and among democrats. The outlook is that these democrats who will offer for office,

whether to succeed themselves or to succeed a present incumbent, with very unimportant exceptions, are men of recognized integrity and regard for the rights and privileges of opposing candidates.
It is to be expected that the present
incumbents of county offices, whose
duties are practically wholly clerical,
no matter with what efficiency they
have conducted their respective offices, will have opposition, for undoubtedly there are numerous other
democrats who could conduct the offices just as capably.
Therefore the results of the contests for offices whose duties are

Honorable Frank Huddleston, who returns home at the conclusion of his second term in the Oklahoma Legislature as popular with his constituency as he has all along been with his colleagues, stenographers
and pages of the house of state representatives.

wholly clerical will largely be dependent on personal popularity and
ability as a solicitor.

But the other county officers, such
as county judge and county attorney,
whose duties require special fitness
and training, it is thought would
hardly be as accessible to candidates
who would succeed the present incumbents, provided such present incumbents had proven fitness and ability.

The present incumbent of the office
of county judge will not be a candidate for re-election, considering it
more desirable to return to the practice of law.

The present incumbent of the office
of county attorney, the Hon. Robert Wimbish, who will be a candidate for
re-election, has, in the judgment of
the News, shown special ability in
the conduct of his office and deserves
the compliment, which is in prospect,
that there will be no opposing candidiate.

Mr. Wimbish has made a state reputation as a vigorous and accomplished county attorney. He is reputed with having prosecuted more
murder cases and secured more convictions than any other Oklahoma
county attorney. But what has been,
in probability, the largest factor in
influencing his accomplished professional colleagues to favor his re-
election, without opposition, is their
acquaintance with the unusual and
peculiar hardships and extreme
dangers which have confronted him
in the fearless exercise of the duties of the office. It is believed that Pontotoc county and its attorneys appreciate the situation and will heartily
return Mr. Wimbish to office.

SENATOR REUBEN RODDIE OFFERS FOR RE-ELECTION

Honorable Reuben M. Roddie authorizes the News to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office
of state senator from the 23rd senatorial district, subject to the action

of the Democratic Primary.

Further reference will be published regarding Senator Roddie and his legislative record a little later.

RATLIFF FOR JUDGE.

Hon. Edgar Ratliff authorizes the News to announce his candidacy for the office of County Judge subject to the action of the democratic primary.

UNCLE JOE OFF RULES COMMITTEE

IMPERIAL POWER AMID
WILD SCENES.

TEXAN WOULD VACATE CHAIR

Congressman Burleson Offers Resolution to Oust Cannon, but Is Lost on Vote by Republicans.

Washington, March 21.—Shorn of his imperial power, as a member of the Rules Committee; crushed in defeat by his decision being overruled,
and humiliated by being forced to
put to a vote the things which tore
away, one by one, his signs of Czar-
like authority, Joseph G. Cannon, Speaker of the House, was nevertheless retained in the presiding officer's seat against the proposal of Congressman Burleson of Texas, who
offered the final resolution declaring
the Speakership vacant. The votes:
Overruling the Speaker's decision
against the Norris resolution to reform the Rules Committee, 182 to 160.

Ordering previous question to make
Norris' substitute reducing Rules
Committee membership from fifteen
to ten members, 173 to 159.

Adopting Norris' substitute making
Rules Committee consist of fifteen
members, the Speaker eliminated, 193
to 153.

Refusing to accept Burleson resolution, vacating Speakership, 155 to 191.

Thus the republican insurgents voted with the democrats to rebuke the
speaker and shear him of some of his
power, but when it was brought home
to them that the actual office of
Speaker was about to be vacated,
they refused to "make a martyr" of
him and the session ended, after one
of the most memorable contests of
the past fifty years, with members
singing: "For he's a jolly good fellow."

CANNON'S STATEMENT IN RULING.

Speaker Cites Precedents and Refers to Similar Question.

Washington, March 21.—In sustaining the point of order against the
consideration of the resolution of Representative Norris looking to a reorganization of the Rules Committee, Speaker Cannon announced his
reasons in a typewritten statement.
He began by referring to the fact that he had been criticised for being slow to rule, but explained that this was because the question had
been brought so unexpectedly upon
the attention of the house. This, he said, had been done in a "revolutionary manner," rendering it of "such
transcendent importance to the future procedure of the house that the
fullest, even the most protracted discussion, seemed justifiable." In no other manner could the most complete information be brought to the
consideration of the question and in
no other way could the large participation of the membership of the house be assured. He said the question of constitutional privilege in the
house had not been reviewed and
the principles governing it had not
been questioned for many years.
Those principles, he said, were relatively simple.

Functions of House.

"It has been held always," he
went on, "that the ordinary legislative duties and function in the house,
exercised by authority of the Constitution, must proceed according to
the order prescribed by the rules.
The inference that the Constitution
says that the house shall have power
to lay taxes, regulate commerce, make naturalization laws, coin money, establish postoffices, create courts support armies and a navy, etc., has
not given these subjects when em-
bodied in bills any right to disturb
the order of business provided by the rules. The very object of the rules is to provide an orderly way
for considering those and other subjects entrusted to the house's judgment.

"To give all those subjects constitutional privilege would be to establish constitutional chaos in the house.

"There were certain functions
which the Constitution enjoins Congress to do and for the doing of
which it fixed the time. Among these
was the one that congress shall provide for a census of population and
apportionment of representatives.
Therefore in the tenth year bill to make the required provision have
been admitted without regard to the requirement of the rules. Whether
that construction proceeded too far
when the constitution gave a year
within which to perform the duty was
a matter as to which there might be doubt. But for thirty years the practice has been unvarying. Hence
when confronted with the question
this week, the Chair had followed the

practice of the house as he would
obey every rule, without questioning
the wisdom that originally created it."

He then proceeded:

"Today, however, the Chair is asked to permit a proposition for a new rule to come in, although the rules
prescribing the order of business require us to proceed to others matters,
and it is claimed that the chair would
be justified in doing this because the Constitution says that each house
may determine the rules of its proceeding."

PRESTIGE LOST; WEAPON GONE.

Cannon Still Speaker, but Shorn of Power of Membership.

Washington, March 21.—Joseph
Guernsey Cannon of Danville, Ill., is
still Speaker of the House of Representatives, but he lost today the ancient prestige the weapon of that office when the allied republican insurgents and democrats took from him not only the chairmanship of it, but even membership in the all-powerful committee on Rules, the chief asset in his stock of power.

Amid scenes of the wildest disorder, for the like of which one must
go back to the exciting days just
prior to the Civil War, perhaps even
those times might not duplicate it;
the veteran speaker, almost 74 years
old, stood erect and defiant, his head
"bloodied but unbowed." And at the end, when a big Texas democrat accepted the speaker's daring challenge
and introduced a resolution to fling
him out of the speakership, the republicans, with few exceptions, rallied with almost unbroken party
front and gave him a vote which almost offset the "repudiation of Can-
nonism."

This is what happened:

By a vote of 191 to 155, the Republican insurgents voting solidly with
the democrats, the House adopted the resolution of Representative Norris
(Rep.) of Nebraska requiring a reorganization of the rules committee,
increasing its membership from five
to ten and declaring the Speaker ineligible to membership thereon.

Clark's Statement.

Minority Leader Clark issued the
following:

"The great victory of the democrats, aided by the insurgent republicans, in changing the number of the committee on rules and in changing the mode of selection and, above
all, by excluding the speaker from
the membership thereof, is a victory
in the cause of good government.

"The great victory, from a democratic standpoint, is that, for the first time in many years, the democrats, in
a great bitter and prolonged fight,
stood together like a stone wall, not
a man breaking ranks, which augurs
well for future harmony and victory in both the Presidential and Congressional elections. The country is dissatisfied with both the republican administration and the republican congress.

"The republicans are on the toboggan, and if the democrats outside of
congress will get together as the
democrats in the house have got together, our victory this year and in 1912 will be as sweeping as those of 1890 and 1892.

"After the astounding victory of the democrats and the insurgent republicans in the matter of changing the committee on Rules, Speaker Cannon
made a great bluff by asserting that
he was ready to entertain a motion to declare the chair vacant and to elect
a speaker to succeed him—a motion
which he would have been compelled
to entertain without any such declaration on his part, if he paid any
attention to his oath of office.

"His bluff was promptly called by the democrats. Every man lined up

Had the insurgent republicans stood
by us on that vote to declare the
chair vacant and to elect a speaker, Cannonism, with all the name implies
would have been as dead as the men who lived before the flood. As it is,
the issue of Cannonism survives in
full force, for as sure as a gun is
made of iron, if the republicans elect
a majority of the next house, Mr.
Speaker Cannon will be re-elected
speaker.

"In the public mind, Mr. Cannon and Cannonism are absolutely synonymous. They can not be disassocia-ted by any sort of incantation of legerdemain. We have, in this victory, simply scotched Cannonism, not
killed it, and the net result is that
the people, if they really desire to
do away with Cannonism, must do so
by electing a democratic house. That is the only way known among men by which to accomplish that result—a consummation devoutly to be wished."

Representative Lenroot of Wisconsin, an insurgent who voted against
the speaker, said:

"I have always believed that the
presiding officer of the house should
not be Joseph G. Cannon. I have voted consistently today, that is all."

Representatives Cooper of Wisconsin and Poindeexter of Washington expressed themselves similarly.

Mr. Harrigan is noted for his good taste in showing nothing but the best of pictures. Mr. Harrigan has decided that as the voting contest seemed to appeal to the public so much, to give to the public something else later on, what it is, he refuses to state, however Mr. Harrigan stated that it would be something new, this was all he would say. So watch the newspapers, the prize is worth staving for. Here are the names of the winners in the voting contest which ended Saturday night.

SPEAKER CANNON SAYS INSURGENTS ARE COWARDS

STILL BOASTING OF HIS CONTROLLING POWER.

Says Republicans Who Saved Him Complete Humiliation Lacked Courage.

Washington, March 21.—Developments in the twenty-four hours following the partial victory of a majority of the House of Representatives over Speaker Cannon and the Rules Committee are of a character that tend to justify Representative Byleson's motion to remove Joseph Cannon also from the Speakership and to emphasize the fact that a full and effective defeat of Cannonism failed only because a sufficient number of insurgents in the supreme test lacked the courage to vote their convictions.

These developments also show the shallowness of the pretension that there is a wide distinction between "the man and the system," as was contended by the insurgents who joined the reactionaries in the vote against declaring the speakership vacant. Mr. Cannon's great power is not derived from the fact that he absolutely controls the committee on rules, but he controls the rules committee so completely because of the great power which is vested in him in many other ways—notably, the power to stack committees for on against important legislation. With such a power lodged in the speaker of a great legislative body, the criticism of Cannon is that by reason of his ideals and affiliations he is unfitted for the place, and the house cry against him has been based upon the character of this man so clothed with great responsibility. What has occurred since the House crippled him, so far as his complete domination of the rules committee is concerned, would indicate that the next logical step is to shear him of every vestige of the remaining power, by reason of which he still holds a majority of his colleagues in subjection, or remove him entirely, as the democrats and nine insurgents sought to do Saturday afternoon.

Emboldened by the vote of confidence which he received at the hands of his followers, with the aid of the insurgents who voted against removing him from the speakership, Mr. Cannon at a banquet Saturday night let loose his wrath upon the insurgents who made it possible to curb his power, calling them the "slough of the Republican party" "populists" and what not. Upon those insurgents who did not vote for his removal, he heaped additional scorn and contempt.

This course he followed up today by the more important intimation that he proposes to name through the republican caucus the men whom the republicans will select for the committee, and that the Rules Committee will as thoroughly be his committee as heretofore

AVOID HARSH DRUGS.
Many Catholics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels.

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They in no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

We honestly believe that we have the best constipation treatment ever devised. Our faith in it is so strong that we sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Ordo-lies. These are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever. They do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea. They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak, delicate persons and aged people as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in two size packages, 12 tablets 10 cents, 36 tablets 25 cents. Remember you can obtain them only at our store—The Rexall Store. The Gwin & Mays Co., West Main St.
